

STORYTIME SKILLS WORKSHOP

Friday, November 14, 2008

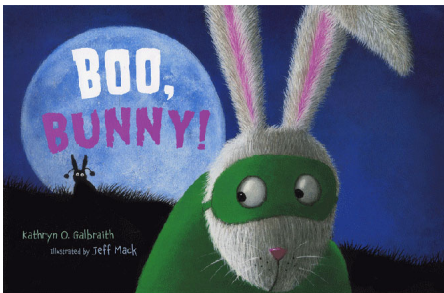

9:00 AM - 1:00 PM

William K. Sanford Town Library

629 Albany Shaker Road

Loudonville, NY 12211

Registration and networking begin at 8:30 AM

All thumbs with finger puppets? Flannelboard technique just doesn't stick? Come develop new storytime techniques, hone your existing skills, or gather fresh ways to use your expertise. Upper Hudson Library System and Mohawk Valley Library System bring the best outside and inside presenters together to demonstrate, teach, coach and facilitate sharing of key storytime skills. A must for anyone with minimal storytime training!

SPECIAL FEATURE!

Author/illustrator Jeff Mack (Hush Little Polar Bear, Rub-a-Dub-Sub, Boo Bunny, Hurry! Hurry!) will join us for the last hour with a presentation on picture books. Books for signing will be available.

Registration deadline: November 10th

Free to MVLS & UHLS member library staff and volunteers. Non- MVLS & UHLS: $15.00

Please make check payable to Upper Hudson Library System and bring to the workshop.

Please register via email: srokos@mvls.info or phone Sue Rokos at 518-355-2010 x226.

We'll need to know:

Name: _____

Library: _____

Phone: _____ Email: _____

For additional information please contact: Sue Rokos or Mary Fellows at 437-9880 x228

Directions: <http://www.colonie.org/library/welcome.html>