Why Advocacy Matters

Building an effective advocacy network requires ongoing efforts by library staff, boards and supporters. Every day library advocates are called on to speak up about the value of libraries and help decision-makers understand how important libraries are to their community. Public libraries advocate to ensure that they have the resources they need to provide high-quality services to the community

Both your library and SALS depend upon state taxpayer-based funding. NYS Library Aid is allocated each year based on Education Law formulas. State funding comprises 94% of SALS funding, and the infrastructure SALS provides to enable 34 libraries to share resources and costs they cannot afford individually. The SALS 2017 budget is based on a 6.4334% cut from full funding as required by law.

2017 Legislative Priorities

Increase State Library Aid Proportionally with Increases in Education Funding

New York State Education Law requires Library Aid for FY 2017-2018 to be $102.6M, based on the most recent census data. Total funding in last year's enacted budget was $95.6M. This places library aid at 2006 funding levels.

More than $111M in statutory State Library Aid has been withheld since FY2007-2008.

Increase Investment in State Library Aid Construction Program to $25M

The most recent available data provided by the New York State Education Department's Division of Library Development (DLD) articulates an existing $2.2B in needed capital investment statewide

State funding for the public library capital program remained stagnant for nearly a decade at $14M prior to a nominal $5M increase in the FY2016-17 enacted state budget. Without immediate, significant state investment public libraries remain unable to accommodate advances in technological infrastructure, make investments in energy-efficiency, or increase access to differently-abled patrons.

Expand Access to School Libraries and Librarians

Currently, elementary schools are not required to be staffed by a certified School Library Media Specialist, while secondary schools are only required to do so by Commissioner's Education Regulations. Many school districts disregard the Commissioner's regulations; the NYC Department of Education previously sought a waiver from this requirement.

Taxpayer Access to Publicly-Funded Research

This legislation requires New York State funded research published in peer-reviewed journals be made available online by the state agencies that underwrite such research. This bill would bring NYS in line with the federal standards employed by the National Institute of Health and the State of California.

Provide Universal Access to DASNY Financing for Public Libraries

This legislation would make all public libraries eligible for public financing through the Dormitory Authority of the State of New York. Currently, any library not yet eligible by law for DASNY funding must individually be added to the statutory list of approved institutions.

Advocacy Checklist

Advocacy is a year round activity, make sure you keep in contact with your local officials to build positive working relationships with them.

- Add your legislators to your mailing list
- Follow them on Facebook and hope they follow your library in return. Share their posts and post on their wall. On Twitter start a conversation or give them "shout outs"; on Instagram don't forget to #hashtag

- Invite them to visit you in person for a library tour or an event. Make sure there are a lot of people expected to attend the event for photo opportunities. A Summer Reading event is often the perfect opportunity since the legislative session normally concludes in early July.
- Join SALS at the Library Advocacy Day in Albany to meet with your legislators in person. SALS provides limited free transportation to this annual event held in February or March.
- Document and celebrate how essential your library is with Snapshot Day in February.
- Write/call legislators a few times each year and always send thank you notes when you get a response.
- Post a "Contact your Officials" button and "Library Value Calculator" on your website and Facebook during legislative alerts
- Join the NYLA Action E-list to receive timely alerts about email campaigns when libraries need support
- Get the local media involved: Write letters to the editor (trustees too) and ask the paper to support libraries with an editorial.
- Use the PLA Project Outcomes results to tell your story.

Protocols for Meeting with Legislators

1. Be on Time and Prepared

Legislators are busier than most folks and often have multiple appointments and time commitments in a day. Being prompt allows you more time with the legislator to get your points across. Being prepared is essential to getting your message across; rehearse ahead of time what you are going to say, bring materials from NYLA's website, and information available from other reliable sources that backs up your statements. If you have any questions about what to say or how to say it, please do not hesitate to email or call NYLA's Executive Director at director@nyla.org or (518) 432-6952.

2. First Impressions

The first thing you should say is "thank you" for being a library supporter. Most legislators are part of the silent majority that support libraries, or have given member items to local libraries or supported increased funding for schools. The purpose of the advocacy is to get them to convert their silent support into a more active and visible role, like speaking up in conference (meetings with their fellow senators or assemblymembers of the same political party) or writing letters to their legislative leadership (i.e., the speaker or majority leader).

3. Roles of Advocates

If you are going to see a legislator with a group of colleagues, try to bring a diverse group of constituents, i.e., public, school, academic library personnel. Someone should be appointed to be the meeting facilitator, who speaks first, introduces folks, designates certain members to speak on particular issues of expertise and wraps up the meeting. Another advocate should be designated the note taker, who records what happened at the meeting and the legislator's response. This person should also record any additional information that needs to be sent to the legislator or follow-up taken by NYLA.

4. Meeting Tone

Advocates are there to educate legislators about the issues and not to berate or lecture them. Remember that honey always works better than vinegar. You want to educate them about the lack of adequate state funding for libraries and what that means to their local public libraries, library systems, school libraries and academic/research libraries. Never get belligerent or angry. You can express frustration and disappointment at the lack of proper funding for libraries, but do not get mad at the legislator.

5. Stay on Message

Many legislators like to talk about their involvement with libraries, or how they know someone involved in libraries, and that is fine and can be helpful if you are able to make a personal connection with the legislator (i.e., legislator's cousin works in your library or their son is a student in member's school, etc.). However, do not let too much of your limited meeting time be used to talk about these pleasantries. You need to bring the conversation politely back to your message of wanting the legislator to take action in support of additional funding for libraries.

6. Leave on a Positive Note

As you wrap up the conversation, make sure you repeat one last time what action you hope the legislator will take and then thank them for meeting with you and their past support for libraries. Also make sure you leave them any written material you brought that backs up your point of view.

7. Follow-Up

Follow-up is key to successful grassroots advocacy efforts. The meeting facilitator should send a thank you note to the legislator for meeting with them and include any additional information the legislator requested. A record of the meeting should be sent to NYLA's Executive Director (director@nyla.org) for follow-up in Albany, so we know which Legislators have already been spoken to and who needs further attention.

Assembly Member

Room 123 LOB

Albany, NY 12248

Dear Assembly Member,

Thank you for taking the time to meet with our group of library supporters on Library Advocacy Day, March 2, 2016. We appreciate the interest and the feedback that you were able to provide. We know that you are facing the very difficult challenge of getting New York moving forward on a stable fiscal platform, and we want you to know that New York's libraries and library systems are now, and will continue to play, an important role in that process.

We know that you understand that libraries are essential for all New Yorkers for the work they do every day in employment assistance, small business support, early childhood education, and connecting all New Yorkers to the digital world. We know that you appreciate that library systems are the foundation of the network that connects all New York's libraries to all New Yorkers. We need your help to ensure that libraries and library systems are able to continue to serve as models of resource sharing and collaboration, and that they are supported at realistic and appropriate funding levels.

We urge the Assembly to demonstrate that they value New York's libraries by advocating for a full restoration of library aid to $102.4 million. We look forward to supporting you and your Assembly colleagues in making a positive difference for libraries in this year's budget negotiations.

If you have questions or would like to visit any of our member libraries to witness for yourself the transformative work being done in your district every day, please feel free to contact me and I will be happy to make those connections for you.

Thank you for your caring and committed service to your constituents and most of all thank you for your support in our efforts to keep libraries and library systems working for all New Yorkers.
